

Workers who have undergone pre-employment testing have

47%

LESS WORKERS' COMPENSATION FILINGS

Pre-employment testing can help identify candidates who are not physically capable of performing the job

OVEREXERTION REPRESENTS

35%

of all reported occupational injuries

A 40% INCREASE SINCE 2007

An average back injury results in 32

LOST DAYS OF WORK

Proper pre-employment testing can ensure your employees are not at risk for injuries like this

1 in 75

American workers suffer from a musculoskeletal disorder (MSD) each year

600,000

experience lost time as a result

THE NUMBERS ARE CLEAR

Quality hiring requires quality pre-employment testing. The numbers couldn't be any clearer! Take a look at the numbers to see for yourself how employment testing at multiple levels can help your bottom line.

How Employment Testing Affects Your Bottom Line

Work-related MSDs account for 33%

OF LOST WORK DAYS

This can be minimized by testing prior to employment

The average MSD claim costs

$15,000—$100,000

FOR A TOTAL OF $15-$20 BILLION ANNUALLY

THERE WERE

1,153,490

DAYS-AWAY-FROM-WORK

cases in private industry, state government, and local government in 2015

All stats courtesy of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration and the Bureau of Labor and Statistics.

Employers who follow through with pre-employment testing have

21%

HIGHER RETENTION RATES

Contact us today to learn more about how implementing comprehensive pre-employment testing can benefit your organization's bottom line.

877-348-4975
www.wellworkforce.com

